

THE ARTS AND DISABILITIES PROGRAM

Opportunities at the Vanderbilt Kennedy Center

"THE MUSES" BY ANNE AMBROSE

"COMMON GROUND II" ART WORKSHOP

"WINDY CITY PUSSY" BY GEORGE ZUNIGA

EXHIBITS AT VANDERBILT KENNEDY CENTER

Since 1994, the Vanderbilt Kennedy Center has sponsored exhibits of art by persons with disabilities in order to demonstrate and celebrate the diversity of creative talent. Each year the Center hosts four exhibits of art in a wide range of mediums in the lobby gallery of the Kennedy Center on the Vanderbilt campus. Opportunities to exhibit in the community are welcome as well. Some exhibits feature one or two artists, while other exhibits include the work of many. Often exhibits are organized in partnership with local, state, national, or international organizations. The Vanderbilt Kennedy Center also sponsors community art workshops and forums.

The Vanderbilt Kennedy Center is a University Center for Excellence in Developmental Disabilities Education, Research, and Service supported by the Administration on Developmental Disabilities. It also is a national Eunice Kennedy Shriver Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities Research Center supported in part by the Eunice Kennedy Shriver National Institute of Child Health and Human Development. To view current and prior exhibits, see kc.vanderbilt.edu/kennedy/community/art.html

TENNESSEE ARTS INFORMATION

Visit the Tennessee Disability Pathfinder website at www.familypathfinder.org and click on the "Arts" icon, or call toll-free (1-800) 640-INFO, locally 322-8529.

ANNUAL ARTS ISSUE OF BREAKING GROUND

Breaking Ground is the newsletter of the Tennessee Council on Developmental Disabilities, which is available at no cost to subscribers. An annual Arts Issue is produced. Submissions of visual art, poetry, short fiction, and essays are welcome. Contact (615) 532-6536, ned.solomon@state.tn.us.